D3 TECHNOLOGIES Named 2008 Channel Partner of the Year by Autodesk

Springfield, MO - March 31, 2008 - D3 TECHNOLOGIES, a leader in delivering Autodesk manufacturing software solutions, is excited to announce they have been named 2008 Channel Partner of the Year by Autodesk, Inc. D3 was presented with this top reseller award at Autodesk's annual One Team Conference in Las Vegas, Nevada on March 11, 2008, which attracts more than 4,000 Autodesk reseller owners and executives from around the world. The Autodesk Channel Partner of the Year award is the most coveted title given out by Autodesk each year.

"Autodesk is proud to present this prestigious award to D3 Technologies," said Steve Blum, Autodesk senior vice president of Americas sales. "They have shown outstanding growth over the last few years and continue to be a leader in overall customer satisfaction. Their hard work and dedication has set the standard for other resellers and we at Autodesk look forward to continuing our work with D3 to help our joint customers achieve competitive advantage with Autodesk's advanced digital design technologies."

"We're very excited and honored to have received this prominent title from Autodesk. It means the world to us. We couldn't have gotten here without the trust and loyalty of our clients," states Kevin Schlack, president of D3. "We feel we connect with our customers on a level not typical of other resellers. By working closely with our clients and becoming a part of their team, together we are able to effectively solve their real-world business issues. We promise to honor this award by continuing to excel in providing our customers with the highest level of service and support they deserve."

D3 was also honored as Autodesk's Partner of the Quarter for the fourth quarter of Autodesk's fiscal year 2008. The Channel Partner of the Quarter Award is handed out to the Autodesk reseller who demonstrates overall strength and performance over the previous quarter. This is the second time D3 has received Partner of the Quarter recognition; the first time was in the third quarter of fiscal year 2007.
